

STRATHMORE SQUARE

Imagine having delicious prepared dinners available as you head home from the Metro, meeting a friend in a relaxing gathering place, or strolling from your front door through art-lined paths to the Metro. That's our vision for the area around Grosvenor-Strathmore Metro. Fivesquares Development, Strathmore, and WMATA are working to make this vision a reality. Our plan is to create a connected, upscale community that provides a pleasant link between the neighborhood, the Metro station and the Music Center at Strathmore.

A place to live

Our vision is to create an upscale residential community atop the Grosvenor-Strathmore Metro Station that features a mix of buildings, architecture and heights. Our proposal is to build mid-rise buildings adjacent to the surrounding neighborhoods along Tuckerman Lane and step up the building heights along Rockville Pike.

A place to connect with the community

Improved connections to Metro and the surrounding community will provide a pleasant experience walking between Strathmore Square and the Grosvenor-Strathmore Metro Station.

A place to relax and connect with friends

Strathmore Square will feature a public place in the heart of the community where you can enjoy a coffee with friends, relax at the tree-lined central park, or simply meet your neighbors. Strathmore Square creates a public gathering place for all of the existing neighborhoods.

A place to connect with the arts

Our partnership with Strathmore will bring a sense of the arts into the Strathmore Square community. From the arts walk to the potential for open-air, ground-floor classroom space for artists and musicians, Strathmore Square will incorporate the arts throughout.
